Volume 20, No. 1

People Plus supports an engaged, healthy, and independent life for older adults, while joining others to build community for all ages

THANKS TO EVERYONE WHO DONATED DIAPERS for our annual diaper drive for the United Way! Some young members of the United Way team along with Stacy's new puppy Gia gathered to celebrate the nearly 700 diapers that were brought into the Center during the month of October. Thanks everybody!

Fit & Fun for Free?! How cool is that!

New year! New you! Hopefully, the beginning of 2020 brings good fortune to all of us. So why not start with good health or try a new activity?

People Plus wants to help with your wellness and fitness or just having some fun, so for the entire month of January you have the opportunity to try out any of our class/club offerings for FREE! This great deal is open to new attendees to come and bend, stretch, play a game and so much more. It's fun and leaves you feelling way better about yourself.

Here's what's on tap at our Union Street facility:

— There are more than a dozen fitness classes each week, including Loosen Up, the popular chair-based exercise program; Zumba dancing with Béa; Table Tennis, Monday through Thursday; Yoga with Ann; Aerobics Lite and Chair Yoga; Qigong and

Tai Chi, and more.

— Classes and clubs are also available in art, playing Scrabble or Mah-Jongg, Fiber Arts, cribbage, discussing world affairs and so much more.

"The goal is to get folks engaged," said Executive Director Stacy Frizzle. "This offer is for new attendees and gives them the chance to see if they like it. And we're confident they will. What a way to start the New Year!"

All of our instructor-led courses are available to members for a cost of only $5 a session.

Please check the calendar in this newspaper for the class schedule or call People Plus at 729-0757 with any questions or to sign up. Also, visit www.peopleplusmaine.org for the full list of activities. This offer is free and open to the public.

FYI! "Cuba's National Pastimes: Baseball and Politics"

Thu, Jan. 23, 1:30 pm. Did you know that Cubans have been beating a path to the States to play baseball for more than 125 years? That players from the island played starring roles on teams in both the Major Leagues and the Negro Leagues. That one of the most successful teams in the early years of the Negro Leagues was called "The New York Cubans." That the Cuban knuckleballer José Acosta once fanned Babe Ruth three times in one game. That the greatest Cuban player of all time, Martín Dihigo, was not just inducted into Cooperstown, but in the Baseball Halls of Fame of Cuba, Mexico and Venezuela. That Cubans are such fanáticos about baseball that fans meet every day of the week in a park in downtown Havana just to debate the finer points of the game. Who knew?

Allen Wells, Roger Howell Jr. Professor of History, Emeritus, Bowdoin College, will be talking baseball on both sides of the Florida Straits on Thursday, Jan. 23, at 1:30 pm. A native New Yorker, our speaker never played baseball worth a lick, but that has not prevented him from spending way too much time obsessing about his favorite team, the perennially underachieving New York Mets. Somehow, he has squeezed out time to write books and articles about his other major love, Latin American history, and share his passion for baseball and history with students at the college over the course of three decades. Free, open to the public. Registration appreciated.

Grants, annual campaigns showing great progress

We all know what a special place we have here on Union Street. There are countless activities and services that hundreds of people benefit from at People Plus and the Brunswick Area Teen Center. Two of the ways that make all of this possible are through the grants and annual campaign funds we receive from wonderful individuals and organizations.

And we are happy to report on good progress in both areas, which includes the following:

— In early December, the Committee of the Alfred M. Senter Fund awarded a grant in the amount of $10,000 to directly benefit the Teen Center.

— A $5,000 grant award from the Maine Community Foundation will help continue the good work of the Center's Volunteer Transportation Network (VTN).

— And according to Office Manager Betsy White, the People Plus annual campaign, as of Dec. 11, has thus far collected $18,870, as well as $1,826 donated by members as they renewed their dues, and the overall Teen Center fund total stands at $27,771.

The Senter Fund allocation is very exciting. "This is quite an impactful grant," said Jordan Cardone, Teen Center Coordinator. "To be awarded this grant from the Alfred M. Senter Foundation enables us to apply the bulk of the $10,000 directly to our biggest and most crucial need and most challenging budget item to fund, staffing."

"Thank you to the Senter grant committee members for your wonderful support and belief in a program that we believe is making a positive difference to so many kids and families right here where we live,"

Memory Enhancement Class provides guidance

5-session program begins in January

As a service to the community, People Plus and Mid Coast-Parkview Health are teaming together to offer their new Memory Enhancement Class in January.

The ideal participant is someone experiencing mild memory loss, and may or may not have been diagnosed with early stage dementia or mild cognitive impairment. The purpose of the program is to provide education, support and strategies for living optimally.

"I think the class will provide important information for people experiencing mild memory loss," said Kim Watson, Administrator, Mid Coast Senior Health, and one of the class presenters. "Our hope is that the class will provide answers to commonly asked questions; and will help participants focus on their strengths and abilities to make the most of every day."

Each participant is required to bring a support person for several reasons: a) to help the participant identify how the information can be applied to daily living, b) to practice newly learned skills with the participant, c) to discuss and reinforce new information with the participant, and d) to help "fill in the blanks" if information is forgotten.

The five-week Saturday class is limited to eight participants and their support person. It will run from Saturday, Jan. 11 to Feb. 15,

'Aging Well' Lunch & Learn: "Legal Services for the Elderly"

Mon, Jan 27, 12 noon. LSE provides people age 60 and over with free legal advice. Attendees will learn about what Legal Services for the Elderly provides, such as assistance with public benefits issues, foreclosure or eviction matters, financial exploitation, obtaining medications more affordably, and more. Attendees will also get a brief overview about the benefits and risks surrounding Powers of Attorney and Health Care Advance Directives. Presenter, Wren Saunders, is a staff attorney at Legal Services for the Elderly. She holds degrees from the University of Maine School of Law, New England Conservatory of Music, and the University of Southern Maine. When she is not advocating for Mainers over the age of 60, you will find her playing her bassoon across New England. Free, open to the public. Registration appreciated.

2020 is Looking Good ...

I'm writing this column after having just arrived home from the holiday choral concert at Brunswick High School. Christmas hasn't happened yet and neither has New Year's Eve. In fact, earlier today Patrick and I recorded the monthly TV show projecting how amazing January 2020 will be at the Center and discussing all of the wonderful events and programs that lie in wait just around the bend of the new year.

And as I drove through downtown Brunswick and Topsham on my way home tonight, the trees on Maine Street were twinkling with their holiday lights, the sidewalks and buildings were dusted with the newly fallen snow and it seemed like the night was also waiting. Waiting for 2020 to arrive. It was beautiful and I could not help but feel slightly awestruck by these lovely towns and be filled with gratitude for being able to live in this wonderful community

As we move into the year 2020, I'm sure there will be a plethora of jokes and innuendos about "how good the year looks," how we can "see it's going to be a great year," and "hindsight is 2020," etc., etc. I am sure I will author a few of those bad jokes myself, (in fact I think I just did!). Yet, it is amazing to think that we are beginning the third decade of this century. My oldest daughter was born in the year 2000 so she will turn 20 in February. It's astounding to me that I'm old enough to have a 20-year-old child and I am in awe every day of those of you who have raised children, had full careers and are now enjoying your years of retirement at the

of things we might do better or bigger or smarter or healthier. And I'm sure that this year will be no different, but there's something about launching into a new decade that makes THIS new year even more impactful. Will these be the roaring '20s again? Will we experience the highs and lows of 100 years ago socially, economically, politically.

There's really no way to know. So we hope that you will join with us at People Plus to welcome this new decade, to make a resolution that this is not only the year you will get healthier, make more friends, get out and try new things, but it will be the decade that you fill with new experiences and new people in your life. I tell my girls all the time that we are never too old to change and grow and try

So in an effort to embrace the new decade, I'd like to invite everyone in Brunswick, Topsham, and Harpswell to come try out the People Plus Center for the whole month of January for free. Yes, that's right — we are bringing back our very popular get fit and have fun for free in January event! You can call the Center for details, but the gist of it is if you aren't already signed up for a class, you can take that class as many times as you like in the month of January for free. You can try yoga or art or Tai chi or loosen up or join us for bridge, cribbage, and mah-jongg as well as the writing group, the book club, the foreign language clubs and everything else

From the Executive Director

the Center has to offer for FREE the entire month of January

Opening in 1976, People Plus has changed a lot through the 1970s, '80s, '90s, and the aughts, and the teens. And now as we enter the '20s, I expect we will continue to grow and expand as well. In fact, in 2021 we will celebrate 45 years at the Center with more than 1,000 members and nearly 600 people registered as riders on the VTN. AND it will be Betsy's 21st year and my 10th anniversary with the organization. Yet, despite the growth in membership, the addition of some new classes, the loss of bingo and the move to Union Street, the People Plus Center is still the same place it has always been. It is a warm and welcoming place for older adults to socialize, play a game, get some exercise, take a class and learn something new with friends.

So let's embrace this new decade together. Let's get out there and do something new! Let's make 2020 the beginning of the best decade of your life and let's get that started down at People Plus, in downtown Brunswick, where we are the Center that Builds Community decade after decade after decade. See you there!

Each year there is a national convention for dietitians. I have attended several of these and they are packed with great information and new products. I did not attend this year, but found out about some of the great new products that we should be able to find on our grocery store shelves in the near future. Be on the lookout for them! What better way to bring in the New Year than adding some delicious, healthy food choices to our meals. Here are just some of

- the new choices: - Do Anything Foods came out with Do Anything Sauce. Varieties include cauliflower Alfredo and kale pesto.
- Joybol Smoothie Bowl comes in superberries and acai, along with strawberry almond quinoa crunch
- Blackberry fruit spread Snow Monkey vegan frozen treat fiber and zero added sugar.

- Sweet Potato Toasts. I have seen a recipe for putting sweet potato slices in the toaster. I never tried it because I really didn't think it could work. Now we can buy them.
- Otamot is tomato spelled backward. I counted nine veggies in the ingredi-
- Marian and Ricardo's Tortilla. Grainfree tortilla made with avocado oil. Flavors include zucchini, cauliflower and sweet potato.
- Good Culture has a flavored cottage cheese with active live cultures.
- Carrington Farms have come out with Crounons. These are croutons made from crispy puffed quinoa. They also have ground lupin beans, which cook up like couscous and is packed with protein and fiber.

I am excited about trying these new products. I will keep you up to date when I am able to find them and let you know how they taste. Let's start the New Year with some new foods on our grocery list. I picked this recipe because it symbolizes

Baked Dijon Salmon

Ingredients:

- 1 Tb. butter, melted
- 3 Tb. Dijon mustard
- 1 1/2 Tb. honey • 1/4 c. dry bread crumbs • 1/4 c. finely chopped
- pecans
- 4 t. chopped fresh parsley • 4 (4 ounce) fillets salmon
- Black pepper to taste • 1 lemon, for garnish

- 1. Preheat oven to 400 degrees F.
- 2. In a small bowl, stir together butter, mustard, and honey. Set aside. In another bowl, mix together breadcrumbs, pecans, and parsley.
- 3. Brush each salmon fillet lightly with honey mustard mixture, and sprinkle the tops of the fillets with the breadcrumb mixture.
- 4. Bake salmon 12 to 15 minutes in the preheated oven, or until it flakes easily with a fork. Season with black pepper & garnish with a wedge of lemon.

The Captain's Cat

by Elizabeth B. Bates

In my courtier's ruff it would seem I have known queens. They begged to bed me ... but enough of that!

Under my soft fur, I'm a tiger, wiry and tough. On pleasant days, I return from birding with feathers in my ears. But what I like most is sailing ships to Boston. The fishy air suits me fine, and to earn my pay, I take the long dull night watch, using my eyes like yellow moons to light the way.

A Different "Turkey Day"

by Doris Weinberg

It was the day before Thanksgiving about 25 years ago. The family was gathering at our parents' home A tradition — rain or snow!

The trip would take three hours and we'd leave early on Thanksgiving Day. We'd be in a lovely motel for the duration of our stay.

I was chosen to cook the turkey Which I did the day before. And I would be bringing most of the meal Already packed to go out the door.

My sister would prepare a pot roast meal to eat another night. And then we'd have the leftovers and it would all work out just right.

But we didn't count on Mother Nature to spoil our well-made plans. We awoke that holiday morning to see white snow covering the land.

The roads were terrible, and no one should drive! It would be very foolish to take chances with our lives. We were stuck at home on that Thanksgiving Day. No touching our holiday meal — it was spaghetti that holiday!

We left the following morning With sun and clear blue skies. The weekend was a big success Delicious turkey and lots of pies!

That Time Again by W A Mogk

It was the day before New Year's and all through the place, beer kegs were stacked high and of wine, many a case.

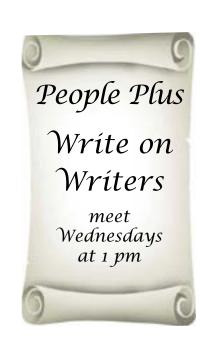

Balloons were hung from the ceiling alright, ready for patrons to party that night.

There were funny hats, noise makers and streamers. And at midnight there'd be yelling and screamers.

Father Time would appear at the appointed hour. along with Baby New Year with a towel from the shower

All hell would break loose right at twelve o'clock. Others would yell, "Quiet," from down the block.

Then all would be toasting the coming New Year. Hoping peace and prosperity for everyone was near.

Round The World In 24 Hours?

When you travel, holidays may find you in some odd places. One year I was in Christchurch,

New Zealand when New Year's arrived. That was OK with me; New Zealand is a great place and the Kiwis are wonderful people. As a civilian worker I was given the temporary rank of Lt.

Commander, with O-Club (Officers Club) privileges. And it was New Year's Eve — to gild the lily, the O-Club had made a nice profit for the year, and all drinks were free! You might think everyone got sloshed, but no, we had a normal.

The next mid-morning I wandered over to see what was going on, and heard cheering!

"Yay Riyadh! Happy New Year Saudi Arabia! WHOOPEE!!" Well, this was curious, so I got the nearest flight crew member a beer and asked him about it. Seems the navigators had been it and we celebrated it. What a nice way to start

Hurricane Gloria

It was back in 1985 when Hurricane Gloria was heading up the East Coast. It would give us in Connecticut a direct hit in about 24 hours. Our house was sturdy, so we really didn't have fear of damage, but we would most likely lose our power. There wasn't much we could do to prepare besides having lots of flashlights and lanterns. Fortunately, it wasn't winter, so we didn't worry about being cold.

The next morning, we woke to heavy rain and lots of strong wind. We had taken in everything that could get blown away, especially our deck furniture. We followed on TV the path of the storm and saw the eye was very close. Suddenly, the power went off! I knew we were fine, but then I thought of my spare freezer. It was a chest type and not too large. I kept it within easy reach in the back of my

Looking Ahead by W A Mogk

For unkept promises and random dreams?

I was looking things up in the yellow pages, when my neighbor appeared at my door. "If you're willing," he said, "I'll pick up your freezer and put it in the back of my truck. And if it's alright I'll put our food and all of the neighbors' on top of yours and take it away. My friends in New Britain still have power and I can plug it in over there." It was such a great idea and I said "yes, of course" and watched my appliance depart.

The blackout lasted three days and we survived it all knowing our frozen food was safe. I think that was the best "perk" of our great neighborhood in the 18 years that

Yours truly, Mother Nature

Gift of Life by Betty Bavor

This is not the hardest present to select but one I consider noteworthy and worthwhile. I will never know who receives my gift. It will make someone enormously happy and I consider it an honor and in memory of my dad. It takes a couple of hours, no wrapping or cost involved and I relax as my blood becomes a "gift of life."

The first non-direct blood transfusion was done in 1914 and the first blood bank was in the UK in 1917. The British Red Cross established a Blood Donor service in 1921. The U.S. blood collection began in 1940s. I have vivid memories of my dad being called by our one and only town doctor. There had been an accident, he would say, and blood was needed. My dad had type O positive which can blend with other types. He would drop whatever he was doing and head downtown to help this emergency.

My dad's 121st birthday is Dec. 19. I am sure he is celebrating in Heaven with my mom. brother, siblings, family and friends. Maybe even someone who shares his life-giving gift donation. I gave my annual "gift of life" on Nov. 23, 2019, with cherished thoughts and gratitude of my dad. He was always my cheerleader with tender loving care. I can hear him saying, "I am proud of you, thank you and I love you." God called him in 1984, a month prior to his 98th birthday. Rest in peace — with love from DADDY'S LITTLE GIRL!

Lunch & Connections

Tasteful menu topped with special dessert

Thanksgiving. Christmas. New Year's Day. Plenty of holidays and, oh my, plenty of food. When is it all going to end?

For that very reason, January's Lunch & Connections at People Plus is going with a simple, yet tasteful, menu. The monthly event at the Center is slated for Thursday, Jan. 16, Guest chef Henry D''Alessandris and our wonderful volunteer lunch crew have an awesome meal planned. Topping the list is homemade lasagna, accompanied by meatballs, salad and garlic bread. And to round out this heartwarming Italian menu is a special and delicious dessert of tiramisu.

Just a little background on our featured endof-meal item. Tiramisu, which means "pick me up" or "cheer me up," is a coffee-flavored Italian dessert. The recipe has been adapted into many varieties of cakes and other desserts. Most accounts of the origin of tiramisu date its invention to the 1960s in the region of Veneto, Italy, at the restaurant "Le Beccherie"

As always, don't miss this one. Bring along your friends and appetite for good food and 12 noon.

These monthly Lunch & Connections meals are sponsored by our friends at Spectrum Generations, and are intended to focus on nutrition, useful information, variety, socialization and fun. A CHANS home health-care professional is always in attendance at the lunch to complete and record blood pressure checks of our members. A free hearing check with Mary Marino of Mary's Affordable Hearing Aids is also available upstairs in the quiet and privacy of the Teen Center from 1 am until noon.

Remember, the dining room opens at 11:15 am. Come to the Center and claim your favorite seat, chat with your friends and maybe make new ones, and pick up your 50/50 raffle ticket. Space is limited to the first 68 people and you must pre-register. It is important that you pre-register to be included. It's really easy; just call 729-0757 to register anytime.

Cost of this meal is still only $6 for members of People Plus and $8.50 for non-members. We start serving our buffet-styled luncheon at

THANKS TO EVERYONE THAT STOPPED BY Frank's "campfire" at the Center to have a s'more and hot chocolate and drop off donations for our Mid Coast Hunger Prevention Program food drive. We collected 264 pieces of non-perishable food (along with some cash donations!). That is the Center's best one day total ever!

Frank's fame reaches way up north

(Editor's note: The following book review featuring our own Frank Connors appeared in the Bangor Daily News on Dec. 2, 2019, under the headline "Frank Connors has great stories." The review was by George Smith. Enjoy! And by the way, Frank's books are available at

when I spotted the book Stones and Stories, I thought I might enjoy it. And then I saw the author's name, Frank Connors, and I knew this was going to be a very good book. And it is.

Frank has had quite a career and I remember enjoying his stories when he was a newspaper reporter. But he has also been a town manager, home designer, painter, salesman, and even a truck driver.

He says he loves to talk and tell stories, and boy, does he have great stories! I can't begin to tell you about my favorite stories because I actually enjoyed all of them, from stories about the old home in Bowdoinham that he and his wife, Jane, purchased, to helping his 90-year-old neighbor get up after

At our wonderful Mount Vernon library, he'd laid on floor of his home for two hours. And these are just his first two stories!

> There are stories about everything from cooking apples to the history of Paul Revere to favorite hikes and his dislike for December and February. I really liked his stories about his camp, which turns out to be not too far from my house. And, of course, I like the story titled "The Deere of my Field." And his story about auction. Emily the deer is precious. I also loved his story about smelt Toward the end of the book, Frank shares a lot about his time in the military and Vietnam. I later learned that Frank donated his book to our library. Yes, he's a generous guy too.

Ready for some R & R after successful holiday party

Happy 2020! I believe that the first week of January should officially be declared "rest and relaxation" week, perhaps with a bit of exercise thrown in after all the holiday food! I am writing this the evening of/after our Teen Holiday party, thus the deep desire for teens and six more days until Christmas Eve (with lots of family/home stuff still to do). The party was a success, as usual, and despite the snow we got 30 kids and seven some R & R, with two more days with the staff/volunteers to attend the party, participating in the Yankee Swap and handing out the first load of gift bags. We weren't sure how many kids we would get with the snowfall, but we packed the house.

After applying three Band-Aids, listening to how the school day went and trying to get a sense of who had to leave at what time and getting the kids to eat the "real food" before the desserts, etc., we starting gathering everyone up to head downstairs for the Yankee Swap. The Yankee Swap was, as always, the highlight of the party along with lots of good food (thank you everyone!) and gift bags as well.

Favorite Yankee Swap gifts seemed to be small Nerf guns and boxes of chocolates. The boys especially liked them, obviously intending to regift to a sweetheart ... too

Now we head into January. We never really know what we are in for any given day or time period in the program, but we do know that January, February, and March were are highest attendance months last year. Oh boy!

We are halfway through our fiscal year now and we feel we are looking good so far, thanks to the many donations in response to our Back-to-School letter as well as support from a number of other sources and grants received and pending.

Teen Center News

We have never had to raise as much money as we need to for the 2019-20 fiscal year, because we have never employed as many teen program staff because we have never had as many teen members before. It is a challenge but a worthy one.

We enter the new year committed to continue to do what we do and give it our best. A special shout out this month to the members of UU Church, Bill Dodge Auto Group, members of our Teen Center advisory group and the People Plus board People Plus members, Kelley from Wild Flour Bakery, the folks at Wayfair, and others — I am always afraid I will forget someone — for your help in making another holiday happy for so many kids. We appreciate and feel your support.

Wishing all of you a wonderful new year ahead. Sincerely,

Jordan and The Gang

Board member Thomas Farrell, who is Director of the Brunswick Parks and Recreation Department, also commented on the Senter funding. "Kudos to Jordan and her staff for the great work they all do in providing such a safe and welcoming program for some of our community's most vulnerable teens. The Teen Center is a very valuable program that People Plus offers to the greater Brunswick community and it is now recognized as such by funding sources like the Senter Fund, United Way and others," said Farrell.

The Center's VTN program, which is one of the largest in the state, is grateful for the additional funding from the Maine Community Foundation. Coordinator Lynne Smith said VTN now includes 541 riders and 85 volunteer drivers. "More and more people are seeking assistance through the VTN program, so this grant will go a long ways toward providing that help," said

VTN provides free transportation for homebound elders, connecting them with vital services, medical appointments and so much more.

"I was ecstatic to learn about the news that the Senter Fund had awarded $10,000 to the Teen Center program. said People Plus Executive Director Stacy Frizzle. "We could not be more excited or appreciative. Thank you to all of you for what you do to help make both our senior and Teen Center programs so well respected in our community."

Medical equipment loan helps everyone!

Do you have a temporary need of a little support? A wheelchair, crutches, a walker, shower and toileting devices? The People Plus Center maintains a "lending inventory" and it's ready when you are. "It started almost by accident," explained Frank Connors, the retired Center staffer who in the past usually hauled the surplus equipment up and down the stairs to a basement storage area, "We had members who'd used this equipment and no longer needed it, they offered it to us, we saw the need and the opportunity, and away it went!" Now, on a regular basis, members needing equipment to keep them safe and secure at home have a new source of access. "Everyone wins,"

Connors said. "We ask people to bring it in clean and in working condition," he added, "we take care of the rest." If you have a specific need, or equipment to loan to the program, call or come by the Center. You do not need to be a member to borrow equipment.

Jeanne Mayo featured in college publication

O. Jeanne d'Arc Mayo, a long-standing People Plus member who has been heavily involved in various roles for decades at the Center, was recently featured in Inside Sargent, an award-winning magazine that publishes profiles of faculty, students and alumni of Boston University College of Health & Rehabilitation Sciences: Sargent College.

The article, titled "A PT Pioneer" by Corinne Steinbrenner, chronicles Mayo's 65-year career, which started at New York State Rehabilitation Hospital and culminated in 2005 with her retirement from Brunswick's Bowdoin College after working there 26 years.

One of the highlights for Mayo came in 2016, when she was elected to the Bowdoin College Athletic Hall of Honor in recognition of her pioneering work as the school's first physical therapist and female athletic trainer and, as the story stated, her relentless advocacy for equal opportunity for women in Bowdoin sports.

Mayo, who has served on the People Plus board of directors and been instrumental in the continuing success of the Music in April Gala, said in the article's conclusion, "I've been fortunate to work so long in the field that I chose. Going to Sargent was an incredible gift to me and it's a pleasure to pay that back." Which she has done by establishing the O. Jeanne d'Arc Mayo Sargent College Physical Therapy Scholarship to support PT undergraduates with financial need People Plus member Betty Bavor was a classmate with Mayo at Sargent in Cambridge, Massachusetts. Bavor recently recalled, "The college had two majors, physical education and physical therapy; she was PT and I was PE, however, our 100plus classmates bonded for four memorable years of college education.

"Fast forward to 2015, when I moved to Topsham, Maine," continued Bavor. "I knew my classmate was here and discovered she lived (nearby) and I promptly called her. She gifted me with a membership to People Plus and the rest is history as we share events together. ... Our friendship is cherished with the gift of Sargent Spirit forever."

Weather Cancellations and Delays

In the event of inclement weather, Spectrum Generations will announce any delays or closings on our Facebook page as well as:

> TV Channels 2, 5, 6, 8, or 13 FM Radio Stations 92.3, 93.5, 96.7, 97.1, 97.5, 98.5, 101.3, 102.5, 103.3, 104.3, 105.1, 107.9 AM Radio Station 1160

Spectrum Generations often has volunteer opportunities for members of the community to take part in serving our mission. If you are interested in any of these positions listed, or curious about other opportunities, please contact our volunteer coordinator, Jessica Bucklin at 620-1684 or email jbucklin@spectrumgenerations.org.

Thank you for your support!

Volunteer facilitators are needed for our Healthy Living for ME classes! Do you enjoy being active and working with older adults? We may have the right volunteer position for you! We offer free training to all our volunteer facilitators, as well as mileage reimbursement. Dates and times vary and are generally flexible.

Money Minders assist older adults in managing their finances. Volunteers will assist in setting up a budget and helping to maintain the budget. The volunteer will also work to educate older adults in recognizing financial fraud and scams. Free training will be provided as needed. Dates and times vary and are generally flexible.

Our Meals on Wheels program is in need of volunteers to be substitute delivery drivers. These drivers will fill-in for other volunteers when they are unable to drive their normal routes. The typical time frames are Wednesday and Friday morning with routes including the greater Brunswick and Bath area. Mileage reimbursement is available for all Meals on Wheels drivers.

> For more information please contact our volunteer coordinator, Jessica Bucklin, at (207) 620-1684 or by email at jbucklin@spectrumgenerations.org

All Spectrum Generations' locations will be closed on January 1, and January 20, in observance of New Year's Day and Martin Luther King, Jr. Day.

January News

Whether you are coping with high blood pressure, heart disease, COPD, arthritis, diabetes or other chronic conditions, Healthy Living for ME is here to support your efforts to live life as fully and independently as possible. The program offers evidence-based classes to help adults manage chronic health conditions, prevent falls, and foster well-being. Our programs have also been proven to improve lives through reduced dependence on caregivers, improved health and prevention of disease escalation, reduction in costs of care, and reduced hospital readmission.

Living Well with Chronic Pain

This program was designed for people with an ongoing pain condition, or their caregiver, and offers techniques and strategies for dealing with symptoms. Class topics include techniques to deal with frustration, fatigue, isolation, poor sleep, appropriate exercise for maintaining and improving strength, appropriate use of medications, communicating effectively with family, friends, and health professionals, nutrition, pacing activity and rest, and how to evaluate new treatments.

> People Plus 35 Union Street, Brunswick Mondays, 2:00-4:30 p.m. February 3—March 16

Choosing a Medicare drug and health plan can be difficult and confusing. In this Medicare 101 class you will be provided with information regarding Medicare, Medicare drug coverage, Medicare Advantage plans, Medicare Supplement plans, and tips on how you can save money and avoid penalties.

The next session will be held on January 14, 2020

12:30—2:30 p.m. People Plus 35 Union St., Brunswick Call (207) 729-0757 to register or for more information.

I was zooming out of control at Zumba

3 classes at Center offer tons of fun and more

By Patrick Gabrion

I'd never done Zumba before, so I didn't know what to expect. Prior to class, the instructor said to me, "Just have fun with the music. Keep moving and have fun.'

So that's what I did. I moved and I had fun. The two things I quickly learned, however, were that I didn't have the hip and wiggle action of my fellow female participants, and I made it a point not to look at myself in the wall mirrors, because I would break up laughing over the fact that I looked so goofy. But as I said, it was a lot of fun and I think I might just go again.

The Zumba class offered at People Plus is one of three at the Center that help get your week off on the right foot, while at the same time enjoying the health benefits and spending time with other people.

The other two programs are Aerobics Lite and Chair Yoga, and all three which are worth checking out — are taught by Béa Blakemore.

"The goals of all the classes are the same; just different approaches," said Béa, who also teaches the Loosen Up class at the Center. "We're working on stretching, flexibility and balance. Coordination is also part of it. And in Chair Yoga, our poses also deal with

While I felt clueless as to what I was attempting to do, Béa did a wonderful service of slowly going through the various steps for us newbies before she put the music back on and proceeded with the class. It helped make my participation more enjoyable and gave me hope that my arms and legs wouldn't become twisted pretzels. Near the end, I felt like I was actually making progress

ZUMBA AT PEOPLE PLUS is offered on Mondays at 10 am. Béa Blakemore teaches three classes at People Plus: Zumba, Aerobics Lite and Chair Yoga.

You just had to kind of let yourself go, and that's exactly the point that Béa made to all of us. "Don't attempt to overthink. Let your brain go and just let your body move to the music," she said.

During breaks in the action, it was time for water and favorable reactions from those taking part in the program. "It's my happy class," said PP member Mary Hepburn. "Just watching Béa is worth the price of admission. We sweat a lot, and I'm just trying to keep up. It's

So come and give the three classes a try at People Plus. Zumba is offered on Mondays at 10 am, Aerobics Lite on Tuesdays at 12:30 pm, and Chair Yoga on Tuesdays at 2 pm and Fridays at

At the end of my initial Zumba class, Béa exclaimed, "You did great!" From my point of view, a bit of an exaggeration. But thank you, as I certainly enjoyed myself.

It's still an honorable profession

It's often customary when one nears the end of a long career that he or she is given the opportunity to reflect on the experience, putting answers to questions like:

Did I enjoy my job? Did I accomplish what I set out to do? What would I do over again, if anything? What was I good at? What was I bad at? Was it worth all the hard work and effort? Could I have been better in my duties and responsibilities? What about my dealings with co-workers and colleagues; did they respect my performance or were they glad when I decided to

I was certainly given the chance to put into words how I felt upon exiting my chosen occupation as a journalist, a position I undertook for 44 years at various daily newspapers in three states. But, to be honest, I looked at it as another task filling up a long "to do" list as I prepared for retirement. So I just didn't want to do it, pure and simple.

It's been just over a year since I walked out of the Brunswick Times Record on that fateful last day, so maybe it's a good time to look back on what I still consider to be an honorable profession. Despite today's continuous proclamations of "fake news."

I knew right from the 10th grade that I wanted to be in the newspaper business. I was fortunate to attend a high school that had its own publication, run by students.

I was also lucky that the newspaper's adviser, Mrs. Reeves, while being handsoff most of the time, did ask the tough questions as we delved into issues. Thus laying the foundation for accountability that would be a constant presence through-

While the degree I earned in college says history — and not journalism — that doesn't really matter. Besides, I believe it's a perfect match. Newspapers are all about having to deal with current events ... that become historical in nature as time passes Walking into today's newsrooms is completely different from when I started my first real job at the Sault Evening News in Michigan. Because of computerization, it's just too dang quiet for my liking. I miss the ear-piercing clanging of the Associated Press machine, alerting editors to a news bulletin about some event happening in some far distant land — or close to home. A noisy newsroom is an alive newsroom.

Just like any job, you had "dull as dishwater" days, but then there were those times when the excitement was just overwhelming. You just never knew when something was going to blow your previous plans to bits, which is one of the main reasons I became a journalist.

For example, I was "on the desk" which basically means I was either in charge of the newsroom or played an integral part in the decision-making process when John Lennon was shot dead; when the first space shuttle blew up; during 9/11; the ice storm of the late '90s in Maine, and so many other happenings. Oftentimes, because of these breaking-news current events, the front page I had spent hours putting together had to be ripped apart and redone in a hurry. Daily deadlines were a part of my life. But one incident stands out more than any other. It was in 1975, again at the Sault Evening News. I remember as soon as I walked through the front door, I knew that something big had happened; you could literally feel it.

It was approaching 6 a.m. There were just two of us in the building; myself, as sports editor, and Eugene "Shine" Sundstrom, the editor in charge of just about everything else. He was also an expert on Great Lakes shipping, a subject he ended up writing about for 48 years. He blurted out to me, "A freighter went down," in between taking telephone calls from publications throughout the nation, including the New York Times. We were the closest newspaper located to this catastrophic event.

The region had been hammered by a fierce November storm the previous day and evening. Even in town, the power was out, and in my mind's eye I can still see water charging out of the Soo Locks and crashing onto the street, easily covering a distance of 20-25 yards. On nearby Lake Superior it was even worse; hurricane-force winds and waves topping out at

What I was witnessing and participating in as a journalist was the sinking of the Edmund Fitzgerald, the 729-foot lake freighter, and the loss of the entire crew of 29 people. It was a tragedy of enormous proportions; a story that filled the pages of that newspaper for months and years to come, and still graces them to this day on occasion.

While it's unfortunate that, in most cases, it's bad news that sells newspapers, I look at it another way. We, as journalists, are basically just storytellers, conveying to others the "what, where, when, why, who and how" as best we can, honestly and accurately. And that's what I tried to do for 44 years. Thank you.

New art show in Café Gallery to feature Topsham artist

STORM POLICY

When Brunswick schools are closed due to weather, all People Plus programs, classes, and activities are canceled for the day. Check www.peopleplusmaine.org, or local media for closure info.

The beginning of 2020 brings a new art show to the People Plus Café Gallery. For the months of January and February, we are pleased to feature the outstanding work of Robin Brooks.

The artist's images involve a variety of media, including collage, oils and acrylics, and monotype printmaking. Her interests include the Maine landscape and our relationship to the natural world.

Robin is active in the field of art education, both as a teacher and consultant. She currently works at Williams-Cone School in Topsham as the elementary art specialist. She has offered numerous workshops for children and adults at places like the Harlow Gallery in Hallowell, Maine. She is an artist member of the Union of Maine Visual Artists and Circling the Square Fine Art Press in Gardiner, Maine. Her primary studio is at home in Topsham.

Robin was born in Newark, New Jersey. She graduated with honors from West Orange High School in New Jersey. A resident of Maine since 1987, Robin lives in Topsham with her husband, Jon Riggleman, a high school English teacher. You can view her artwork at www.robinbrooksart.com.

The collected works on display in the Café Gallery are for sale, which is accomplished by contacting the artist directly. A portion of the proceeds will go toward People Plus. The show, which is open to the public, may be seen free of charge during normal business hours at the Center, located at 35 Union St. in Brunswick.

"Connected," a free non-denominational gathering, invites all widowers, widows, divorced and singles 55 and over to come to our monthly meeting on Jan. 6. The group meets at St. Charles Borromeo Church hall located at 132 McKeen St. in Brunswick from 7-9 pm. Light refreshments will be available. Connected is not a dating service, but a chance to mingle and meet new friends. FMI: Call 725-1266 or 725-8386.
